

Climate and Sustainability Festival 2019

DR. MARCO SPRINGMANN

Dr. Marco Springmann is a senior researcher on environmental sustainability and public health in the Nuffield Department of Population Health and the Oxford Martin Programme on the Future of Food at the University of Oxford. He is interested in the health, environmental, and economic dimensions of the global food systems. He uses systems models to provide quantitative estimates on food-related questions regarding the health and environmental implications of the foods we eat, the impacts that climate change and public policies could have on food consumption and health, and approaches to support dietary changes towards healthy and sustainable diets.
