

Climate and Sustainability Festival 2019

DR. OLIVIA CASANEUVA

Dr. Olivia Casaneuva is a researcher and group leader at the Babraham Institute, investigating the molecular mechanisms that modulate lifespan in worms, and also the influence of stochastic and environmental variability during early life and its long-term effect on health. She did her undergraduate studies in Chile and obtained her PhD at the University of Chicago, followed by 2 post-doctoral positions at Northwestern University and at CRG in Barcelona.